

COOKIE STATEMENT FROM HYPERVEN

What is a cookie?

We use cookies on our website. A cookie is a simple small file that is sent with pages from this website [and / or Flash applications] and stored by your browser on your hard drive from your computer. The information stored therein can be sent back to our servers on a subsequent visit.

Functional cookies

With the help of a functional cookie we can recognize you on a repeated visit to our website. The website can therefore be specially tailored to your preferences. Even when you have given permission for the placing of cookies, we can remember this by means of a cookie. This way you do not always have to repeat your preferences, so you save time and make more pleasant use of our website. Functional cookies can be removed via the settings of your browser.

The right to inspect and correct or delete your data

You have the right to request access to and correction or deletion of your data. Our contact details can be found on our contact page. We can ask you to identify yourself, we do this to prevent abuse. If you wish to inspect personal data linked to a cookie, we ask you to send a copy of the cookie in question. You can find these in the settings of your browser.

Switching cookies on and off and deleting them

More information about switching on and off and removing cookies can be found in the instructions and / or using the help function of your browser.

Google Analytics Tracking cookie

For statistical purposes, HyperVen uses a Google Analytics tracking cookie. This allows HyperVen to monitor how many visitors are on the website and which pages are visited. If you do not want your data to be included in this statistic, you can disable the tracking on the cookie pop-up that appears when you first access the site. If you want to see this cookie pop-up again, delete the cookie from your browser history.
